

LIGHTHOUSE COMMODITIES LAUNCHES INNOVATIVE AUTOMATED TRADING SYSTEM

Bismarck, ND, June 5, 2023 – Lighthouse Commodities, LLC, a leader in the agriculture sector and provider of professional merchandising and related services for farmers, today proudly unveils Lighthouse Futures, a fully automated trading system. Lighthouse Futures is built from proprietary commodity price signal algorithms developed by Lighthouse and operates continuously when the markets are open – without human intervention.

Derived from Price Signal algorithms used by Lighthouse and its customers for grain marketing, the technology behind Lighthouse Futures underscores the company's commitment to innovative, data-driven solutions.

Zachary Moore, Director of Lighthouse Labs shares, "Lighthouse is driven by the application of advanced technology in the agricultural sector. The creation and automation of the Lighthouse Futures algorithm was no small feat. It involved numerous iterations, rigorous testing, and a continuous learning curve. Such a unique milestone brings us both great pride for this moment and incredible excitement for what's to come."

President of Lighthouse Commodities, David Spickler added, "This milestone represents years of focused, difficult work, partnering highly developed commodity analytics with technology necessary to automate trading. Going forward, we're committed to more milestones like this as we continually incorporate advanced technology into all our business activities."

The launch of Lighthouse Futures reaffirms Lighthouse's commitment to pioneering advanced agriculture technology.
